

new product: Black Inlets

ParkPower black inlets were initially introduced to meet the demands of our RV OEM customer base. Used as original equipment by leading Type A, B and C motorhome, fifth wheel and traditional travel trailer manufacturers, our black inlets offer a neutral color option to complement exterior color schemes. In addition, our black inlets offer enhanced UV resistance.

With increased OEM usage came the demand to offer these products to the consumer to replace damaged inlets or to retrofit from white to black. As a result, we have introduced a retail packaged ParkPower black inlet program for the aftermarket. The inlets are available in our Standard model for both 50A and 30A applications and 30A in the Contour model. ParkPower inlets are a universal fit and will easily retrofit any competitive inlet on the market today.
